artisan Gallery	21/1 - OK at Fortitude Valley but the South Bank store is still without power and will remain closed for another week.	From the artisan blog
Australian Catholic University Gallery	OK	Email from CAN
Brookfield District Museum	Flooding in surrounding areas, but the Museum and Showgrounds are OK.	Phone conversation with M&GSQ
Commissariat Store Museum	15/1 - Water main burst in front of the building itself, took out the 1913 concrete retaining wall, which in turn caused the collapse of the convict-built retaining wall at the back of the Store. The falling debris punched a hole in the back wall of The Store itself. No damage to any of our collection, and everything in the building is secure. No flood water has entered the Store at all, though there is mud all through the yard from the burst water main, and rubble on the ground floor. 20/1 - Still no power. Cement block from retaining wall will be removed shortly, then repairs to the building can start. Collection is safe. Museum will hopefully reopen in approx 6 months.	From email Carolyn Nolan, President RHSQ, posted 1 DIS. Phone conversation with M&GSQ and Christina Miel RHSQ
Cultural Centre, Brisbane (incl. QM, QAG GoMA, SLQ, QPAC)	All State collections are fine. The assessment of damage and safety issues from flooding to lower levels and carparks, clean up and phased reinstatement of services is now underway. 21/1 - Queensland Museum, Queensland Art Gallery Gallery of Modern Art, State Library of Qld, Queensland Performing Arts Centre buildings at South Bank remain closed to the public until further notice, following the recent flood.	Update from Arts Qld on Q-DIS

Some trouble with the earth wall, collapsed three times since Christmas, cascading mud and gravel across their property, up the ramp, and under the building. This blocked the main drain and undermined their tank, which is leaning with its down pipe broken. In addition, a Council drain pipe that runs under the footpath developed a leak and the footpath immediately beside their driveway caved in and water eroded under their driveway.
